Eliminate Third-Party Solutions for Closing Documentation

The seamless integration of the Baker Hill NextGen® loan origination product suite and TruStage™ Compliance Solutions solutions eliminates the need for costly third-party products for closing documentation, providing the true end-to-end software solution needed to close a loan efficiently.

Reduce Risk Exposure

Compliance regulations are complex and vary by state, necessitating maximum flexibility and accuracy for banks and credit unions to remain competitive and capture a larger share of business.

Baker Hill NextGen® and TruStage™ Compliance Solutions work together to ensure each document adheres to federal and state-specific compliance regulations by automatically assembling the correct forms for a given transaction, reducing your financial institution's risk exposure for virtually any type of loan.

Baker Hill is in the business of evolving loan origination by combining expertise in technology with expertise in banking. Built on decades of walking alongside banks and credit unions as they provide vital resources to their communities, Baker Hill NextGen® is a configurable, single platform SaaS solution for commercial, small business, consumer loan origination, and risk management that grows along with you as your business needs change. Baker Hill is lending evolved. For more information, visit www.bakerhill.com.
